Trial of the Assassins—Ben Wood Implicated.

Washington, Friday June 16th.

EXAMINATION OF [illegible]

By Judge Advocate Holt. Live in Montreal, [illegible] and Assistant Manager of the Montreal [illegible] the Ontario Bank, am acquainted with [illegible] Thompson, formerly Secretary of the Interior of the United States, and with the account [illegible] kept with the Ontario Bank. The money [illegible] that bank to his credit accrued [illegible] negotiation of bills of exchange drawn [illegible] Secretary of the Treasury of the so-called [illegible] States upon their agents at Liverpool. [illegible] whether or not in the course of the [illegible] made by Jacob Thompson of the [illegible] this requisition was [illegible] the bank, exhibiting to witness a paper [illegible] below? A.—It was; it is my hand[writing].

Q. [illegible] to the Court. A. Reading: [illegible] August 10, 1864. Wanted from [illegible] New York, in favor of Ben. Wood, [illegible] $25,000 current funds, $20,000 [illegible]

The paper shows that the requisition was originally drawn in favor of Benjamin Wood and that the name of D. L. Eastwood was afterwards substituted.

Q. State the exact condition of that paper? A. As it reads now, it is a draft on New York, payable to the order of D. L. Eastwood; that is [illegible]

Q. State how that change in the requisition occurred? A. The name of Benjamin Wood, as it appeared originally, was erased at Thompson's request and my name as an officer of the bank was substituted.

Q. That is the original paper, is it not? A. [illegible]

Q. Now look at this bill of exchange (another paper was exhibited to the witness) and state whether it was drawn upon that requisition? A. It was.

By request of the Judge Advocate the witness then read the paper to the Court. It was dated Montreal, August 10, 1864, and is directed to the Cashier of the City Bank, New York, and the wording is as follows:

"At three days sight please pay to order of D. L. Eastwood, in current funds, twenty-five thousand dollars, value received, and charge the same to the account of the Branch."

The indorsement on the bill directs the payment to be made to Benjamin Wood, or order, signed D. L. Wood.

Q. You stated that the twenty-five thousand dollars for which this bill was drawn is the same for which that requisition was made by Thompson in the name of Benjamin Wood? A.—It was.

Q. State whether or not the bill of exchange you have just read is the original one? A.—It is.

Q. Where did you obtain it? A.—I obtained it in New York, from the cashier of the bank on which it was drawn.

Q. Does it bear the marks of having been paid? [illegible]

A.—I am not acquainted with the usual marks of canceling in New York, but I understood that it had been paid.

The witness stated further that he was not acquainted with the Benjamin Wood referred to, but he supposed it to be the same who, at the date of that transaction, was a member of the Congress of the United States.

Cross examined by Aiken—Did not recollect of having cashed any drafts or checks in favor of James Watson Wallace, Richard Montgomery, James B. Merritt or John Wilkes Booth. About the last of October, Booth purchased a bill on the bank at Montreal with which witness was connected. Never heard the name of John H. Surratt mentioned before.

The Judge Advocate exhibited the witness a list of localities on which drafts had been made on the Ontario Bank, and requested him to give the dates and amounts of the drafts which, as [shown] by the paper, had been drawn in New York.

The witness stated that the following were among the number of drafts drawn: On the 3d of October last, a draft for $10,000 in gold; on the 11th of October, one for $5,000 in gold; on November 3d, 4th and 8th, bills for about $6,000 in United States currency. On the 14th and 21st of March last, small drafts were also drawn.

EXAMINATION OF GEORGE WILKES.

By Judge Advocate Holt—Am acquainted with Benjamin Wood of New York, and know his handwriting. (The endorsement, "B. Wood" on the back of the bill of exchange, as given above, was exhibited to the witness, and the handwriting mentioned by him as that of Benjamin Wood, of New York.) Witness stated further, that at the time at which the paper appeared to have been dated, Wood was a member of the Congress of the United States, and he believed editor and proprietor of the New York Daily News.

EXAMINATION OF ABRAHAM D. RUSSELL.

By Judge Advocate Holt—Am acquainted with Benjamin Wood of the city of New York, and know his handwriting. (The indorsement on the bill of exchange exhibited to the previous witness was declared by this witness to be the handwriting of Wood.) At the time of the date of that bill of exchange, Wood was a member of the Congress of the United States, and editor and proprietor of the New York Daily News. Witness had been in the habit of receiving letters from Wood.

The Court then took a recess till two o'clock.

Upon reassembling, Judge Advocate Holt suggested that if the argument of counsel for the defense was now commenced in the absence of Col. Tompkins, a member of the Court, who was indisposed, it would have to be read over to him at a subsequent session of the Court. He thought there would be no loss of time to the [Court] if an adjournment was taken until Monday next.

[illegible]—A Russian soldier recently, while enjoying himself at a rustic ball, in one of the Polish villages, boasted that he could [send] a bullet through a man's hat at one hundred paces without touching his head. A peasant accepted the wager, but in order to foil the marksman, squeezed his hat so low down over his eyes that the ball went through hat and head both, and left him a corpse on the ground. The soldier was sentenced to a month's imprisonment for homicide by imprudence, but he appealed against the sentence alleging that the fault lay with the peasant, and offering at the same time to repeat the experiment with the judge, provided the latter did not "bonnet" himself so completely. The judge, with a singular want of respect for good marksmanship, declined the proffered experiment.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE.

THURSDAY MORNING, JULY 27, 1865.

A Comfortable Doctrine.

We all know the means which Southern politicians employed to infect the public mind with the virus of the doctrine of "State rights." They had supposed that a skillful inculcation of their false and unnational ideas had so dwarfed all patriotism that no great objection could be made to their proposition to withdraw from the Union in obedience to the behest of their "sovereign States." But their vicious theory had not gained the hold they supposed. It had not become omnipotent. Their first overt act awoke an instantaneous protest. An unexpected opposition met them. They had imagined there would be no war. Soon they found they had an undertaking on their hands which was not to be put off lightly. Stephens and others now assure us that had they supposed there would be any considerable opposition, their attempt to found another Government would not have been made. Here it may be seen how much of the responsibility for the origin of the war rests upon a class of the Northern people. Long ago, it was time to have abandoned the unwise, and even criminal dogmas, which prepared the South for rebellion and caused its people to think that the North would acquiesce in the loss of the Union. And yet many Northern politicians refuse to banish the doctrine of "State rights" which defeated traitors affirm was the cause of our great war.

But while these Southern seceders were disseminating political ideas which were intended to prepare the way for the fulfillment of their cherished plans, they were also looking out for their lives in case they should fail in their undertaking. Just before his final withdrawal from the United States Senate, the apostate John C. Breckinridge made a speech to the people of Kentucky in which he said:

"If, for instance, I should think it my duty to join in this work of revolution, and if it should fall to my lot to be captured on the field of battle, you cannot try me as a traitor, you must treat me as a prisoner of war."

Here is an attempt to reconcile the unquestioned right of revolution with the absurdities of secession. The faithless betrayer of his country wanted to show that, though he should violate, yet he could not be made amenable to the laws. This is an exceedingly comfortable doctrine for a lawless traitor. It prevails too, just now, to a great extent, in the minds of their abettors, as is evidenced by the tenderness with which they would have the guilty dealt with. From this position, it is not a single step to that held by those who claim to be free from all the restraints of law. Quoth the apostate before he took up arms, "If I join in this revolution and you capture me, you cannot try me as a traitor." Answers the Copperhead brood of whom he was the political father, "you cannot try a defeated opponent for simple treason."

In exact conformity with the doctrine by which rebels hope to be shielded from punishment, comes the following "opinion" from the London Times:

"The legal question as to the right of Secession has always been doubtful, the majority of American lawyers inclining to the belief that if not allowed it was not prohibited by the Constitutional Compact. It would therefore be the most glaring injustice to treat this Secession as an ordinary uprising against authority. The good sense of the American people will, no doubt, restrain them from the mistaken policy of vengeance in such a case."

We should feel deeply gratified to the modern Jupiter Tonans, for this oracular annunciation were it not for the gross untruth that is seen staring out from every line of it. The question of the right of secession has never been for a moment doubtful. All true men feel that secession is a crime, and for this reason they have labored long to bring its guilty authors to punishment. The "right of secession" is not a question, now for the first time settled. The right does not now, nor ever did, exist. This point our Government has not been disputing. It has been engaged in an effort to enforce its laws. We have put down those who claimed secession as a right; now let us see if they are above the laws which in the height of their power they thought it a piece of courage and bluster to violate.

President Johnson.—Abraham Lincoln was not more inflexibly opposed to slavery than is Andrew Johnson. A correspondent of the Boston Advertiser who has conversed with many persons from the South who had come to Washington for pardon, speaks in this wise of the President's anti-slavery sentiments. He is relating the result of the interviews which those persons had with the President:

"I have not yet seen a man of these various delegations who had not, in spite of patent facts and clear circumstances, a vague hope that in some way something of slavery may be saved in the process of reconstruction. Gradual emancipation would suit them very well. They cannot see—cannot either apprehend or comprehend—the complete change in the Northern feeling, belief and purpose regarding slavery; and they group around at first with a desire to find a plan for restoring what Lincoln called the "proper, practical relations" of their State to the Union, whereby slavery may at least save some shreds. They cannot, however, in saying that the President assured them first, last and all the time, that there cannot and shall not be any more slaves in their respective States; and they further say he urges them to accept the new order of things at once and with all heartiness.

"I told him," said one of the Georgia gentlemen, "I told him that I thought it hard that we, who had not aided the rebellion, should have our slaves all taken from us in this summary manner, and I said I thought it would inaugurate a kindly feeling in our State towards him and towards the Union Government, if he would give us say two or three years in which to bring about the abolition of slavery." "Well," said I. "He turned turned on me very sharply, and says to me: 'Do you know which side got beaten in this war?' Our side says I: 'Well,' says he, 'the Emancipation Proclamation will stand, and the Constitutional Amendment will be adopted next winter.' I didn't say anything more about slavery to him.

"Our State expects such terms as should always be extended to a brave people," pompously said the chairman of one of the delegations to me. His manner and words were both offensive. "We will accept the Constitutional Amendment, but ours is a Government of white persons, and we shall not allow the negro to vote or marry into our families." "What does the President say about negro suffrage?" I asked. "He doesn't say much about it, except he asks us if it is manly to ask the negro to fight, and then deny him the right to vote; and he particularly told me to observe what number of persons in the North appeared to be willing to let him vote."

A Good Hit.—There are lot of nervous, fidgety people who, whenever the Constitutional Amendment is talked of, forthwith begin to wail dolorously about negro equality, miscegenation, and other direful things. The Louisville Journal gets off the following good hit at those timid, and of course very pure minded people:

The anti-Amendment people seem terribly apprehensive that, unless restrained by the Constitution, they will inevitably marry niggers. We have all heard of the noisy fellow who, getting into a quarrel, cried out to those around him, "Hold me, gentlemen, or I shall strike him." Each anti-Amendment man seems calling aloud, in a similar spirit, "Hold me, dear Constitution, or I shall marry a nigger, as sure as you are born." But we propose that the Constitution stand off and see fair play.

Gen. Lee.—It seems by the Eastern papers that a subscription paper has been handed around in private among Gen. Lee's Northern admirers. The Independent has this notice of it:

Who will furnish us with a copy of the subscription paper which is said to be circulating in this city in behalf of Gen. Lee and to have gathered some $00,000? We are curious to see if it has been passed among the invalids of David's Island, whose feet were rotted off at Andersonville, and Salisbury and Belle Isle, and how many signatures were obtained from the former inmates of the Libby. We will gladly print the list without charge for the information of the public.

"When will we Get a Copy of the Laws?"

Under this head an article appears in the Statesman of this week at which we must confess our surprise. It is a matter of astonishment that any person, without accurate knowledge whereof he speaks, should presume to make against a public officer, charges of so grave a character as those this article contains. We are at a loss to assign even a possible reason for the insidious attack which the Statesman makes upon the integrity of the intentions and conduct of the State Printer. Charges are made with a recklessness which always distinguishes error, not to say falsehood; and it is sought to cloak the real animus of the attack under the specious guise of good will. This method of procedure is nothing new. The foulest and most injurious attacks are often made under the mask of friendship. As it is not our purpose to devote ourselves particularly to the Statesman just now, but rather to make a straight forward statement of the facts relating to the Public Printing—a statement which the misrepresentations of the paper above mentioned render necessary—we will proceed to explain.

The State Printing has been unavoidably delayed. It was expected that the book now in press would be finished by this time. That it has been impossible to complete the work as early as wanted, no one regrets more than the State Printer. Last fall the State Printer sent to San Francisco and purchased a lot of very good paper on which to print the work. All the paper then in that market suitable for the purpose, he obtained. On its arrival here it was understood that the Secretary of State would draw a warrant for the money to pay for it, as he had promised, and as the Governor and himself considered him authorized, under the circumstances, to do. This agreement was not, and has not been fulfilled. After a time the Secretary, at the request of the State Printer, assumed the business of purchasing the remainder of the paper that would be required. The reason why the State Printer desired the paper to be purchased by the State was, that the law permits him to receive in pay for paper, no more than its bare cost in San Francisco, with freights added; thus affording him no return whatever, for the money which he was obliged to borrow for the purpose of paying for it. Several thousand dollars would have been required to buy the whole amount of paper, and the State Printer would have received no interest on the money expended, and accordingly he was desirous of having the State buy the paper, which the Secretary consented to do. He thus took this matter out of the hands of the State Printer, and unless paper shall soon be furnished, the press will have to wait until a new supply can arrive. It is now some six weeks since the Secretary assumed the duty of procuring the paper, and sufficient time has already elapsed to have ordered and received a full supply from the East.

The false charge made by the Statesman, to the effect that the State Printer meant to issue eight hundred copies of the book, and sell them at a low price to the prejudice of the interests of the State, is very easily disposed of. That he is printing these additional copies is true. But it is not true that he intended to sell them as stated. He never proposed to put them in the market until the edition published for the State should be exhausted. Accordingly he made no objection to entering into an agreement in writing to deposit his copies with J. L. Parrish & Co., until those belonging to the State should be sold, or until two years should expire. The point which the Statesman here goes out of its way in the attempt to make, is a most unfair insinuation, impliedly charging the State Printer with dishonesty in the discharge of his duties. The statement we have made shows the unjustifiableness of the charge. It is too much however, to expect that a paper which willfully gives publicity to such false insinuations, will do the person it seeks to injure the justice of making a retraction of what it has said. We hope that virtuous paper, since it has suddenly assumed to be a censor morum, will, in the future, be spared the "mortification" which its unjust and misdirected suspicions cause it to feel, and which obviously make it so very unhappy.

The State Printer has a right to print additional copies on the same forms which are used for the State work. The exercise of this right is no new thing. It is practiced universally. And as the State Printer never intended to sell his copies until those belonging to the State should be disposed of, there is not, nor can there be the slightest legitimate objection to his printing them.

A brief explanation will suffice to show the cause why the Criminal Code was recently issued separately by Mr. Walling. It was not done for "private gain." The delay in the publication of the whole body of our laws caused it to be thought desirable to issue this pamphlet to supply what was felt as a pressing want. It was known that the book which is to be issued by the State could not be ready for some time yet, and it was suggested that the Criminal Code be published at once as a matter of public convenience. This, and nothing else, was the reason why it appeared. Two hundred copies were printed, and it was intended to sell them at one dollar each—a sum which would scarcely have paid the cost of the labor. On the first intimation that the officers of the State might not be willing for the sale of these pamphlets to go on, they were withdrawn from the market at once. Not above a dozen had been sold. And yet the Statesman, which evidently considers itself the sole custodian of the interests of the State, exclaims against a transaction, which even if it were fully carried through, could not make any party a dollar the richer, or injure the State to the amount of a farthing. It was not supposed that there could be the least harm in publishing the Code, and hence, it was done; not for gain, but solely to supply a public want.

In reply to the question, "when will our laws be published," we can answer that the remainder of the work will be done whenever the State shall procure the paper, as it has undertaken to do. And though the pragmatic and querulous Statesman may not thank us for our pains, we, nevertheless, shall take the liberty to give that paper a little gratuitous advice. We would admonish it to remember hereafter, that a published charge of dishonest practices by a public officer, is a very grave matter: especially when, as in the present case, there is not a shadow of truth to give color to calumnies so recklessly spread before the world.

[Since the above was put in type the State Printer has received a letter from the Secretary of State in which he has been authorized to telegraph to the East for the remainder of the paper. He has accordingly done so, and the paper will be here just as soon as it can come by the Isthmus route. It will be brought through by Express.]

The Horrors of Andersonville Prison.—An official report from the office of the Chief U. S. Mustering and Disbursing Officer for the Western Division of Pennsylvania, dated Harrisburg, June 11th, 1865, gives the following account of the horrible treatment of our soldiers:

I herewith furnish a statement of the number of Union prisoners who died at Andersonville (Ga.) during the year ending February 28th, 1865, as given by private Joseph T. Sweet, Company E, Fifth Pennsylvania Volunteer Reserves, who alleges that he was employed as a clerk while a prisoner at Andersonville, and copied the statement from the books of the prison as follows:

March, 1864	282	15	5	283
April	555	71	11	584
May	621	65	10	708
June	1,011	180	10	1,201
July	1,139	820	5	1,744
August	1,800	1,02[illegible]		2,993
September	1,675	1,123	1	2,658
October	1,001	401		1,405
November	484			491
December	160	2		165
January, 1865	1[illegible]	6		200
February	1[illegible]			147
Aggregate 12 months	1[illegible]	1,165	41	12,[illegible]

It will be observed that during the months of August and September the majority of the dying were not even admitted to the hospital, but die in the stockade.
EDW. W[illegible], Chief Mustering Officer.

"We heard a capital the other day, which, whether new or not, was so to us. The hero was hunting, when a bystander broke in with the remark: 'The d— old scoundrel.' He sat at Washington, for four years like a broad-sun milk pan, and drew the rebellion ahead."

In order to counteract the Juarez emigration scheme, Maximilian is opening recruiting offices in Canada for colonists. He offers valuable cotton, mineral and sugar lands to those who will settle in his dominions.

AMERICAN MOUNT HOOD. The New Path, a monthly art journal, published in New York [illegible] upon the collection of new paintings, at the National Art Association's Gallery, speaks with a great deal [illegible] on Mr. Bierstadt's Mount Hood, and [illegible] picture in the gallery thus indulges in [illegible] ...The artist has left the [illegible] ...time of day or evening represented in this picture ... light, broad day sky with a few [illegible] above it, and a great jagged snow mountain ... light, reddish at the base ... beneath and in front of it, all dark and dim enough for moonlight, without the least apparent cause. Then, a large sheet of water, either lake or river, of the same ... gray ... The left is ... a forest rising from the banks of the river, is given over to a still more solid blackness of melancholy, and we had quite made up our minds that it was evening, and that it was the last rays of sun slowly sinking in the west, that lit up the highest mountains only, when, to our great astonishment and bewilderment, we found, on the right hand side of the picture, a number of trees ... in brilliant sunlight, throwing sharply defined shadows upon their near neighbors, and a mass of light ... to suggest weeds, and dark brown hues ... there, where some deer are feeding, all in sunlight. ... Unfortunate for Mr. Bierstadt, and all painters who endeavor to substitute their own ideas for nature's ... action of color and form. The mountains have been ... graphed, and geologists have been there, too, on ... surveys; men who are compelled to be literal and go over every inch of the ground and measure and ... and get at the facts of the place, and what it was in time and color, and we have the authority of ... of these same geologists, when we say that this picture is a caricature, and not a true portraiture of the ...ery." The same journal refers to Bierstadt's pictures ... Jefferson and Adams, lately exhibited at ... and says of them that they are about as much like the place as they are like the Swiss Alps.

USEFUL MACHINERY.—In company with Mr. Myers ... paid the building in which he sells the Turbine Water Wheel, advertised in another column, and patent jacks, for raising buildings, etc., a visit. He has now on hand in this city some 20 of these ... powerful water wheels, ranging in capacity from to ... horse power. The smallest wheel is of ten inches ... and weighs less than 100 pounds. A mule can ... pack, to any part of the country, one of them, with ... 10 to 17 horse power capacity. We can see the ... in no other light than that these wheels are designed to improve the capacity of all water privileges ... using them. They are guaranteed to furnish the best ... advantages, and are superior to any other kind of a wheel known, in the opinion of men who have tested them. Mr. Myers has a number of the same kind at San Francisco, and leaves to-day for the purpose of putting them on exhibition in California, where they can but recommend themselves, and become as they have here, and where ever known, popular among millowners. In ... country, where very often water is scarce a portion of the year, these machines will be found of great utility ... combine every principle for saving water, by using every inch, and run according to the amount furnished and the fall given. In connection with the water ... Mr. M. offers to the attention of those interested, ... jack for raising buildings, etc. With one of these ... of 40 tons can be raised from 18 to 24 inches, in ... minutes time, by the aid of three men.

At the time the gang was at the summit of the hill, near by an orchard. He was seen by a lady and her little girl, living near the hill, as he backed down on the south east side and then skulked up the ravine, but not ... of the escape she did not report what had occurred until the Sunday following. SENT TO JAIL.—The darkey, Wm. Franklin, ... before Recorder Hoffman yesterday, and upon ... for the assault of a white woman, disclosed ... fact that it was a most unprovoked, willful, and aggravating assault. He was committed to the County Jail for the term of one year, in accordance with the provisions of section 531 of the new code, which says: "If any ... not being armed with a dangerous weapon, shall ... another, or shall commit an assault and battery ... another, such person, upon conviction thereof, shall ... punished by imprisonment in the County Jail not less ... three months, nor more than one year, or by fine ... less than fifty, nor more than five hundred dollars."

... LAW NATURE.—It is the nature of man, especially ... to run risks of all kinds, for the purpose of ... time. This principal is well illustrated in the ... of men who are every day running chances of getting their heads broken by falling bricks, on our streets, while they persist in climbing over barricades erected ... side-walks, to go thoughtlessly on in front of new buildings, in process of erection, rather than take a ... round, along the rubbish. THE COLUMBIA RIVER MINES.—It is reported that Capt. Confidence was felt in the reports at Pinkney City, and many holders there were watching their Boats closely, in expectation of ... the town speedily assume the proportions of a city in fact. A town has been laid off at Little Dalles, twenty miles above Fort Colville, which is to be the landing, port of Capt. White's new boat.

TENACITY.—A log of poplar, thrown into the river last ... near the new wharf on Front street, from the large tree there cut down, is blooming with verdure, clinging with great tenacity to life. The new shoots have grown to some fifteen inches in height, on the upper side of the log, and are very fresh and green. Any one desirous of cultivating the tree as a shade can find a good opportunity by "adopting" these branches, and placing them on the ground on a lot or block of the city—they are determined to grow.

SUNDAY CASES.—In Recorder's Court yesterday, the trial of Sunday violations was the principal business. In seven of the ten arraignments parties were fined. Three others are not yet disposed of. The attorneys in one of the cases propose carrying the matter up, eventually to the highest court of the State if found necessary, in order to test the legality of the law in certain points.

ACCIDENT.—One of the ship carpenters, son of Captain Gleason, at work in repairing the bark Jane A. Falkinburg, was yesterday badly cut in the hip by an adz in the hand of a fellow workman. It was the result of an accident. The wound was dressed at Smith & Davis drug store and the man was then taken to the east side of the river.

Indian Troubles in South-Eastern Oregon

CAMP ON COW CREEK, SOUTHERN OREGON, July 16th, 1865.

To His Excellency, Gov. A. C. Gibbs:

DEAR SIR: I take the liberty to address you on a subject of vital importance to the Southern and Eastern portion of Oregon, and which I am convinced could not be known to you at so early a date.

You are aware ... the south-western portion of Idaho and the adjoining districts of Oregon are now developing rich mineral veins which are attracting both from the northern portion of the Willamette and Northern California, a large concourse of people, but who on account of the numerous small bands of Indians along the route, have suffered so many depredations that the tide of travel is not only being interfered with, but there is every probability of serious Indian difficulties in that quarter. The Indians are now being driven northward from the Humboldt, and southward from the Canyon City region, so that they are being concentrated in Southern Oregon, between the Blue Mountains and the Cascade mountains. Their depredations during the present season have been attended with most shocking brutality towards the whites. I could not here narrate all the instances of cruelty perpetrated against travelers, but will refer you to one or two that have come under my own notice as characteristic of the condition of things that hold here at the present time. The Indians on three occasions have driven off from 60 to 400 head of horses from Jordan valley, from Reynolds' creek, and the small streams flowing into the Owyhee. They have driven off one band of 500 sheep from Jordan creek, they have driven off one band of 240 cattle; they only two nights ago, drove off a band of oxen and horses from Jordan valley. They attacked a party of seven men from Southern Oregon en route to Owyhee, in the Paul's valley, killing two and wounding one. They attacked another party of nine men from California, killing four and wounding two, one of the men was burned at a stake, and another having been killed, had his head cut off and a stake driven through his mouth and pinned to the ground, his legs and arms were cut off, and his body cut into small pieces and hung on the bushes.

Could you have witnessed with your own eyes this harrowing sight of the barbarous cruelty of these diabolical savages that calls for vengeance, I do not think your Excellency would have long debated or hesitated what course you would have pursued to rid the country of these atrocities, now getting to be matters of annual occurrence. One of the wounded men of this party met me on the road and his appearance gave full faith to the thrilling statement of his fight with the Indians. He was wounded with five arrows and two balls, wounded by an arrow in the head, one in the right ... the lower lip, one in the left hand, one in the left arm, one through the hip and two balls through the legs. His escape was alone due to the fleetness of his horse. These depredations compelled Lieut. Hobart, the commanding officer of the troops nearest at hand, to take the field, but when you learn the impudent boldness with which these same Indians met the troops and attacked them in their own camps at night, you will not be slow to know that some action, prompt and decisive, should be taken to remedy the disasters of the past and give security to travel in the future. I now desire to state to you that near the Southern line of Oregon the country is rich in silver and copper. This is particularly the case in the Pueblo Mountain district, the Vicksburg district, and, from reliable information, near the head of the Malheur.

Already are efforts, I learn, being made to connect the Owyhee and Boise mines with wagon roads from Jacksonville, Eugene City and Albany. Thus, in a short time, were Indian disturbances quieted, we would have four or five different lines of transit, tapping the rich mineral regions of the interior, and tending to settle up the entire portion of Southern Oregon.

Efforts are on foot in northern Nevada, northern California and northern Utah, to give confidence and security to the resident population and the lines of thoroughfare that trace their vicinity, and it should not be said that Oregon is either derelict or negligent in joining her sister States and territories in these military measures that look forward to the early extirpation of the Indians from amongst us; and that will cause the more difficult and dangerous interior to begin with a busy, thrifty and contented population. I would not presume to dictate how this difficulty is to be met, but of one thing you can rest assured. We need a large military force in this region, to be distributed from the Owyhee mines to northern California, and the proper protection of the country demands probably more troops than there are now in the district of Oregon. For this immense area, extending westward from the Snake river, we have just 100 cavalry and 20 infantry—just enough to give every temptation to the Indian, with but few chances of punishing him with that severity that his cruelties call for. The troops in the recent engagement commanded by Lieutenant Hobart, did well, and deserve much credit. They gave the Indians a blow that will probably hold them in check for a few weeks—to return, however, to their depredations, I fear, with a new boldness and additional cruelties.

These troops were no sooner returned from the field, with their maimed and wounded, before they were again called into the saddle to pursue another band who have run off stock within twelve miles of the mines in Owyhee. I need not lengthen my communication to show to you that more troops are needed in this quarter, nor do I write in a spirit of office-seeking for myself or others. I have nothing to ask for my friends or my myself, but I write as a private citizen, capable of seeing the wants of the region in which I find myself, and with the desire and expectation that my communication will be received in the spirit in which it is written.

It has occurred to me that in the absence of sufficient military force in the District of Oregon that should be sent to this quarter, you could with all efficiency and economy to the public service complete the regimental organization of the Oregon Cavalry to 12 Companies, which would thus enable the District Commander to station about 300 mounted troops with their central depot in the Pueblo Valley, and thus operate westward towards Oregon and California, eastwards towards Owyhee and northward towards Canyon City. A force of 300 cavalry and 200 infantry is therefore imperatively demanded in the Pueblo region, and every consideration requires active and decisive steps. The suggestion as to the manner of providing the necessary troops is only thrown out as one of many that might present themselves to your Excellency, but it matters not how they are raised, so that the country is amply and promptly protected.

Hoping that you will give the subject that consideration and action to which it is so justly entitled,

I am sir, your obedient servant,
JOHN MULLAN.

PILLAGING THE REBEL'S STORES AT HOUSTON.—The Houston Telegraph of the 24th June gives the following account of the foray upon the ordinance and quartermaster's stores:

The confused, disorderly division of Government property among the soldiers that has been going on for several weeks all over the country, from Hempstead to Shreveport, commenced here yesterday morning by the breaking into the ordnance department and the distribution of six-shooters, muskets, ammunition, etc. From thence the distribution proceeded to the clothing bureau, where, with surprisingly little excitement and noise, considering the amount of work being done, the large stores of cloth, blankets, made-up clothing, etc., were parceled out by the crowd, regardless of claim, much, or anything else. He was the most fortunate who had the strongest arms or the most capacious sacks. Bolts of domestic, flannels, etc., went off by the armful. Soldiers took all they could carry, and having deposited it in a safe place, came back to add to their pile. Some joined together, and leaving one to guard the joint stock, the balance gave themselves to the work of adding to it. Nothing came amiss; muskets, bars, shoes, gray cloth, sides of leather, packages of shirt buttons, bales of blankets, mule whips, hammers, headstalls, etc., all went into the division, and all were accepted as a part of the new issue.

The number of troops participating in the affair must have reached 2,000 or 3,000, besides quite a number of women, children, negroes, and men in citizen's garb. Every man seemed to get all he could carry away, and all together carried away all there was. They made a clean sweep, taking every item of Government property worth carrying away. The estate of the Confederacy seemed to be administered on without regard to law. The only recognized claim was that of those who presented their own claim.

Private property was for the most part, if not in every instance, respected. We did not hear of a single instance of depredation, and believe none was designed by any of the participants in this affair.

An inquiry as to how the thing happened was fruitless of any definite reply. The town was patroled by a mounted squadron of DeBray's brigade all night. The ... was dismissed at 8 A. M. The police began at about 9 A. M. The first we saw of it was a large crowd in front of the commodities of the clothing department, and their coming out loaded down with plunder.

The sight of this sort of thing seemed to electrify the whole crowd of soldiers in the streets. Everybody went in for his share. The amount of goods was very large—much larger than anybody dreamed of. ... thousands of suits of clothes had been issued for weeks previous, there seemed to be an immense number left. This all went first, and the miscellaneous plunder followed.

"SOZODONT" is now attracting very considerable attention, and well it may. The article represented by this mystical name is one of the best preparations for the teeth and gums that has ever been offered to the public.

We have been familiar with its results for some years past, and have never known a case in which its use was not pleasing and highly satisfactory. It polishes the teeth, hardens the gums, and gives a wholesome tone to the mouth and breath. —Providence Daily Press.

WISTAR'S BALSAM
—OF—
HAS BEEN USED FOR NEARLY HALF A CENTURY,
WITH THE MOST ASTONISHING SUCCESS IN CURING
Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Croup, Liver Complaint, Bronchitis, Difficulty of Breathing, Asthma, and every affection of the THROAT, LUNGS, AND CHEST, INCLUDING EVEN CONSUMPTION.
There is scarcely one individual in the community who wholly escapes, during a season, from some one, however slightly developed, of the above symptoms—a neglect of which might lead to the last named, and most to be dreaded disease in the whole catalogue. The power of "medicinal gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree over this class of complaints is well known; so great is the good it has performed, and so great the popularity it has acquired.
In this preparation, besides the virtues of the Cherry, there are commingled with it other ingredients of like value, thus increasing its value ten fold, and forming a Remedy whose power to soothe, to heal, to relieve, and to cure disease, exists in no other medicine yet discovered.
The unequaled success that has attended the application of this medicine in all cases of
PULMONARY COMPLAINTS
has induced many physicians of high standing to employ it in their practice, some of whom advise us of the fact under their own signatures. We have space only for the names of a few of these:—
S. H. FINLEY, M. D., San Francisco, Cal.
E. BOYDEN, M. D., Exeter, Me.
ALEXANDER HATCH, M. D., China, Me.
R. FELLOWS, M. D., Hill, N. H.
W. H. WEBB, M. D., Cape Vincent, N. Y.
W. B. LYNCH, M. D., Auburn, N. Y.
ABRAHAM SKILLMAN, M. D., Boundbrook, N. J.
H. D. MARTIN, M. D., Mansfield, Pa.
The proprietors have letters from all classes of our fellow citizens, from the Halls of Congress to the humblest cottage, and even from beyond the seas; for the fame and virtue of Wistar's Balsam have extended to the uttermost bounds of the earth, without any attempt on our part to introduce it beyond the limits of our own country.
TO CALIFORNIANS AND OREGONIANS,
After October 1, 1863, all genuine WISTAR'S BALSAM of WILD CHERRY for the Pacific Coast will be enclosed in a new wrapper which will bear the printed names of both SETH W. FOWLE & CO., Boston, Mass., and JOHN D. PARK, Cincinnati, Ohio, as well as fac-simile of the signatures of "I. BUTTS," "SANFORD & PARK," and "H. WISTAR, M. D."

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE® NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

Mrs. [illegible] is a [illegible] old, however [illegible] here alone. Her son and daughter [illegible] married and [illegible] her. She seems to have [illegible] of her estate, which is managed by her son [illegible] She says the South is no longer [illegible] a [illegible] for her. Emancipation destroys [illegible] The negroes will not work, she [illegible] with slavery. Her enthusiasm [illegible] [illegible] She is wait [illegible] [illegible] her negroes [illegible] whole [illegible] her entirely at ease and helpless. "Old Aunty, [illegible] there, [illegible] but she never got nothin' hardly [illegible] she had an her ole man, who works at the machine down in de town and gib her [illegible] she don't [illegible] look [illegible] helpless." Poor old [illegible] She is much more an object of care and pity [illegible] than the mistress, in whose service the whole [illegible] drudge is at last worn out. I will not go [illegible] into the domestic relations of the family for [illegible] of wounding your sensibility by leaving [illegible] nature of some of those relations, not [illegible] apparently looked upon as a secret before [illegible] indeed it is suspected at a glance [illegible] edged without reserve, as though no [illegible] ject for surprise.

Mr. Cook's headquarters are lower down [illegible] enue toward the city, at the mansion of [illegible] late editor and proprietor of the Macon Telegraph. Clisby still owns the building in which the paper is published by its new proprietors. Clisby [illegible] thinks the material prospect of the South cannot [illegible] er recover from the wreck of abolition. He [illegible] one you have probably heard before [illegible] unsuited to white labor, and black [illegible] one, if not impossible, without slavery. [illegible] or Northern birth, but at heart fully committed to Southern sentiments. His admiration of the Southern character appears unbounded. The Northern man in his opinion, cannot compare with the Southern in native ingenuity, enterprise and energy on any occasion. I was considerably [illegible] fied to learn from this gentleman that the fact was illustrated by better management of Southern railroads—the last direction my experience of them would incline me to look to. Clisby claims that the South look to "blood," and warns me, therefore, not to seek the proper representatives of high toned Southern character in Georgia, which originally was a penal colony, while, in addition, an early policy of distributing the lands of the State in small lots of two hundred and forty acres each, by lottery, had a natural effect to debase the standard of its population. This result has been modified to some extent in the so-called black belt and along the coast.

He says there is no doubt about the wish of Georgia to reconstruct, under any condition. Indeed, he says so far from the people of the South now anywhere needing any further "putting down," they are actually so crippled and subdued as to need "lifting up." The danger, to his mind, is that they will show too great subserviency.

He still sticks to it that the doctrine of "State sovereignty" is right; yet he is occasionally writing editorials for the Telegraph urging reconstruction.

The Remains of President Lincoln. The Springfield (Ill.) correspondent of the Chicago Republican says:

The Lincoln National Monument Association held a meeting yesterday, and Gen. Oglesby said he had received a letter from Mrs. Lincoln which he had not then with him, but the substance of which he gave as follows: Mrs. Lincoln notified the association that unless the monument were erected over the President's remains at Oak Ridge, and a deed given to her and her descendants, of the lot on which it was to be placed, she would accept a proposition for a removal of the remains to Washington. The latter, as may be supposed, caused a great sensation at the meeting, and some of the members, including one or two prominent citizens, talked of resigning their trust. It is evident that a majority if not all the gentlemen forming the association will feel compelled to reject Mrs. Lincoln's proposition. They are the repository of a public trust. The money has been placed in their hands for a public, not private purpose, and it would not be just to the public, or consistent with their self-respect, that they would divert it therefrom. In after years, by death or otherwise, the property might fall into the hands of persons not only inimical to the principles which Mr. Lincoln advocated, but to those who have been his friends and are now those of his family. In such an event, what guaranty would the public have that this property would not be injured, and even the remains desecrated? I do not think it probable, or even possible, that the association can accede to Mrs. Lincoln's demand.

Paying the Negroes Wages in Virginia. The New York Tribune smothers its indignation and gives the negroes some advice in the following words:

"The Republic (Richmond) states that the farmers (and holders) of several central counties of Virginia met last Thursday at Louisa Court-house, and fixed on five dollars per month as the price they would pay for negro labor this season, the negro to clothe himself and pay his own doctor's bills. This will seem inadequate to the blacks, who are quite aware that they have hitherto been hired out by their masters' and for those masters' benefit, at $40 to $20 per month. Yet we would urge every one of them to accept the five dollars per month and earn it, provided he could get no more. 'Strikes' are almost always blunders—the laborer standing idle at his own cost, inevitably growing daily less and less able to resist the demands of capital. Always work for the best price you can get, is the safe rule, and thus qualify yourself for earning and requiring more. The negro who works for five dollars per month, and has a young family to support out of the proceeds, will see hard times, but he will not soften them by earning nothing at all. And a free man at work, and thus earning some sort of a living, may always hope to do better at the close of his present engagement."

Navigation of the Upper Missouri. The St. Joseph, Mo., Herald of 10th June says:

The steamer Yellowstone, belonging to the American Fur Company, arrived from Fort Benton yesterday, making the quickest trip on record on the Upper Missouri from its head to this point, a distance of 2,500 miles, in fourteen days, and having the necessity to cut their own wood. Hostile Indians, dressed in their war costumes, were seen in large bodies on the river, and the boat was fired into at different times, but nothing serious resulted from their shooting. The Yellowstone reports the river in splendid boating stage, and that she rode from Fort Benton down on the June rise. All the steamboatmen of the Rocky Mountain boats were in high spirits at the excellent condition of the majestic Missouri.

The Yellowstone reports the river rising at Fort Benton, and was so all the way down. Her cargo consisted of 2,500 bales and packs of buffalo robes, peltries and furs, and all belonging to the American Fur Company. Among her passengers were a company of the 50th Wisconsin regiment of volunteers, who have been stationed at Fort Union, and were relieved by [illegible] soldiers. Also, 30 miners from Idaho, [illegible] had in their possession $30,000 in gold dust. She had also on board a small collection of animals.

Immigrants Returning. Mr. Wardman informs us that on a late visit to Salt Lake he met many of last year's immigration on the road returning to the States. Some of them were from Oregon, Nevada, and others from Boise valley. The restoration of peace at the East, the general depression of business on this coast, and the causes contribute to this change of settlement. Those old settlers of the border, among [illegible] these Pacific States, find rather a hard [illegible] They can't understand the Pacific [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] ms [illegible] and an [illegible] citizen of that State [illegible] foolish home. His life and experience [illegible] The [illegible] of life is known. The whirlpool of [illegible] or pleasure which circles around him is the same old current in which he was baptised before the sprinkling of gray began to silver his head. The tone of the country accords with his own, and he falls in sympathy with it [illegible] floats on the pool. No other country ever produced such a character, and it is not wonderful that these home-bred comers from the dreary [illegible] and so linked [illegible] of the West [illegible] should find it [illegible] [illegible] especially when a big farm with [illegible] steady [illegible] attractions beyond the [illegible]

The Returning Revocation. The Secretary of State has addressed the following to the Secretary of the Navy:

Department of State,
Washington, June 19, 1865.

Hon. G. Welles: I have the honor to transmit, for your information, the correspondence between Sir F. W. Bruce and this Department, upon the subject of the withdrawal of the pretended concession of belligerent rights to the insurgents.

In view of this correspondence I suggest these [illegible] that you communicate to the naval officers of the United States the following result therefrom:

First—Great Britain has withdrawn her concession heretofore made of a belligerent character from the insurgents.

Second—The withdrawal of the twenty-four hours rule has not been made absolute by Great Britain, and therefore the customary courtesies are not to be paid by our vessels to those of the British navy. The right of search of British vessels is renounced, of course this hour [illegible] heating upon the operation of the existing slave treaty.

Third—Any insurgent or piratical vessel found on the high seas may be lawfully captured by vessels of the United States.

I have the honor to be, sir, your ob't servant,
WM. H. SEWARD.

Extensive Reduction of the Navy.—An idea may be had of the extent of the reduction in the actual naval force of the country, and of the expenses of the Navy Department, from the fact that the number of vessels in commission on the Atlantic seaboard, of all descriptions, is ordered to be reduced from about 660 to 99. The west Coast squadron is to be reduced to 20, and the Mississippi squadron to 15 vessels.

Professor James H. Robinson, of Danville, Missouri, who was [illegible] to the Grand Jury of Montgomery county, one year ago, for teaching [illegible] children how to read, to day is Superintendent of Instruction of Missouri.

LUNG BALSAM!

The Remedy for Curing
CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,
Asthma, Croup,
Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

IT ACTS AS AN EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, [illegible] the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION. IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it if only taken in time.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES!

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

617 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1852, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases of years standing and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned to this State, after an absence of one year, during which time he has visited all the principal hospitals of Europe, among them those of Dublin, London and Paris. The following celebrated hospitals of London are among those visited by the Doctor: Guy's, High street, Borough; St. Bartholomew's, Smithfield; St. Mary's, Camb. Place, Pad.; Lock, Harrow road; St. Luke's, Old street; University, Gower street; Westminster, Broad Sanctuary; Charing Cross, Agar street, Strand; London, Whitechapel road; Royal Free, Gray's Inn road; King's College, Portugal street.

DOCTOR GIBBON has also visited Doctors Acton of London, Parker of Birmingham, England, and Ricord of Paris; who are considered the best physicians and surgeons in the world, and whose authority is acknowledged to be the highest in the treatment of Sexual Diseases.

DOCTOR GIBBON has obtained from them their new mode of treatment which cannot be surpassed.

DOCTOR GIBBON has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with new facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, dyspepsia, monomania and frequently insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and entire mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. He will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Doctor Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage or curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, on Ten Dollars, sent in registered letters, through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Consultations FREE.

Prevention Better than Cure.

The newly invented Private French Safe, a sure Preventive against Diseases and Pregnancy, sent by mail. Price $2. Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 617 Kearney St., near Commercial, San Francisco. Postoffice Box 252.

Caution to the Unfortunate.
